IT IS A HEARTFELT THANKSGIVING A Word To The Wise: Do It Now! Now this Thanksgiving day, with hoarts full of real gratitine infinite blessings he has achieved for mankind at the countries are thankful because the great mailed first reaching out to break them has itself been brouken. Even the infinite blessings he has achieved for mankind at the close of the darkest, bloodiest era in the world's history.

The almost countless celebrations on the signing of the armistice were public rejoicings for victory, evidences of natural exuberance, human satisfaction over having seen one's own side win. In homes and public places, in the greatest cathedrals and the humblest churches where missionaries preside, people celebrate in the spiritual sense, giving thanks to that Power without whose strengthening aid human efforts are unavailing and human valor counts for naught.

The world is thankful for having seen the triumph of earth.

The world is thankful for having seen the triumph of the right over wrong; for having seen the mighty, armed forces of evil, which threatened to overpower all, reduced to impotency; for having witnessed the personification of to impotency; for having witnessed the personification of Satan hurled from his throne; for having seen strong nations rise to the defence of the weak and oppressed and vindicate the principles of justice and humanity. Above sell, the world is thankful for an ending of the destruction of life on the battlefield—the fearful blood spilling which has caused the death of 10,000,000 men and the maining of many millions more; thankful for a righteous peace.

The world is thankful that an end has been brought to the children and would give them information the infliction of death or torture on men, women and chilting in the children ought to have.

Can anyone doubt God himself joined in and helped bold the line there, and not only there but in the other crucial battles also? Ask a military man how those battles were won and he will say they were won on morale, the spirit which takes no account of odds but presses on and overcomes everything. It is a God given spirit, born of right-

Thank God, it has been proved to earth's millions that the murderer, no matter how powerful, shall not go unpunished and that no force, however mighty, can indulge in utter cruelty and wanton bestiality and defy every law of God and man with impunity.

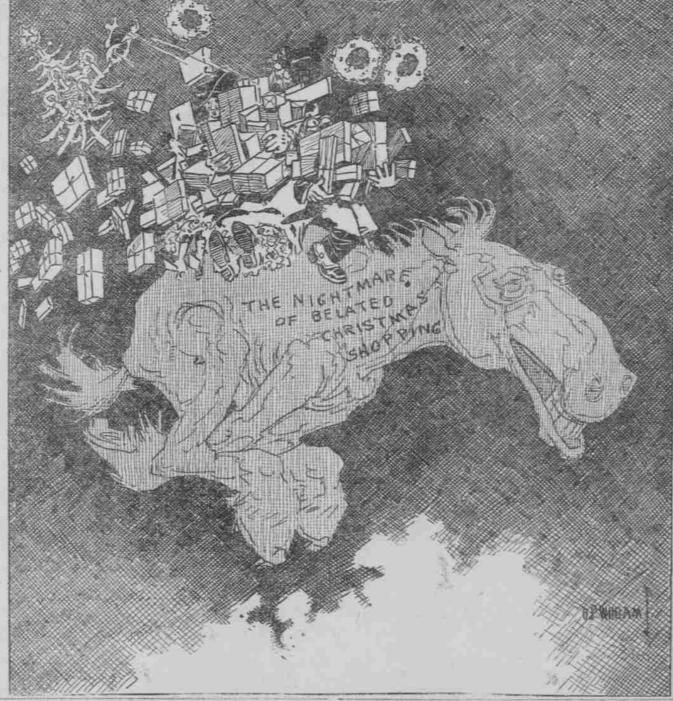

The forces of evil had numerical and material superiority in 1914 and agein early in 1918, but each time, almost in the hour of their apparent triumph, they were hurled back, beaten, by forces which, by earthly reckoning, were inferior.

The victories in the two critical battles of the Marne and of Verdun and before Amiens were quite as much spiritual as material. When the Germans in their march of their broke through the British fifth army and a British general then plugged the hole with a thin line of English.

I quarters at Mukden that the Japanese are exceedingly anxious and will make extraordinary efforts to win a victory on land before the ar-rival of flureian naval reenforce-ments, but the cold is hampering military operations. It is reported that Gen. Kuropatkin received a message from Gen. Stoemel to the effect that all major operations of the Japanese against Port Arthur have been re-pulsed. Russian and British ambassadors call separately at the state department in Washington asking that the United States appoint a high that the United States appoint a high ranking naval officer as a member of the court of inquiry which is to in-vestigate the North Sea incident. Russia hab accepted the invitation of the United States to conclude an ar-bitration treaty similar to the Amer-ican-French treaty, the basis of which is to eliminate war.

Why Kaiser Shouldn't Be Hanged; It Would Be Too Kind For Him

"I FIND very little sympathy for Dig stick on some persons, firms and Dow time for them to begin to train the city who have of the hongry Huna" said P. T. "Germany says she is hungry, So were the unfortunates of the silles who feel into her shounthable prison camps. She says she is hungry, So were the unfortunates of the silles who feel into her shounthable prison camps. She says she is hungry, So were the says she is hungry. So HANGING THE Stainer. MAYBE HE'S right. BUT AS for me. UM OPPOSED to hanging. ONE OF my reasons. 18 THAT it often happens: THAT MISTAKES are made. AND IF the man's hanged. YOU CAN'T rectify it. AND FOR some men. IT'S TOO kind a fate. THES IS my reason. FOR NOT hanging the kalser. BUT IF you want him tried. AND THEN convicted. YOU CAN go shead and do it. FOR ALL of me. BUT INSTEAD of hanging him. YOU JUST ought to tell him. HE's GOING to be hanged. AND LET him Reep guesning. WHEN IT'S coing to happen. AND ITLL werry him so. THAT IN a little while. HELL REEP coming to you. AND REGGING you to tell him.

> WHEN IT'S going to happen. AND IF you don't tell him. IT WON'T be very long. REPORE HELL be coming to you AND BEGGING to be hanged. SO HE don't have to worer.

SO HE'S beguing to be hanged.

WHEN YOU are punishing a man-

AND ANY time, YOU CAN get a man.

TOU CAN be more. THAT HE'S suffering a lot.

AND THE big idea.

The Dump

A ND now we may behold, my friends, where conscienceless ambition ends. A Five years ago the kaiser sat, with eagles on his golden hat, the ruler of a mighty state, in industry and commerce great. The kaiser might have said: "Gee whis! How presperous my country is! The credit I'll receive, no doubt, when death has put me down and out. In future ages men will cry, 'How saff that Kaiser Bill should die! Our country's never been the same since he cashed in and quit the game; no other kaiser's had his pop, and we go backward step by stee! They'll bloss my name till time is done and chose stell country to in and quit the game; no other kalser's had his pep, and we go backward step by sten. They'll bless my name till time is done, and choos shall engulf the sun." But Kalser Wilhelm sat alone, upon his large upholstered throne, and said: "It's not enough for me, this graft of ruling Germany. It is too small and cheap a stunt for one with my majestic front. The whole blamed world must knuckle down and tremble at my war lord frown. My ships must boss the seven seas, my banners float in every breese." And now we see the kalser's and; there's none so poor to call him friend. And men will gather round his grave, and say: "He was both fool and knave; with world dominion dreams be fooled, and wrocked the mighty land he ruled."
